AMHERSTBURG ECHO   March 31, 1882

Death of John Crimmins - On Friday morning last, there died at his residence in this town, John Crimmins, who was one of its oldest residents, having first come here over thirty years ago. Deceased was born in the parish of Robertstown, Limerick County, Ireland, in 1798, and, at the age of 21, enlisted in Her Majesty's 95th Regiment of Foot, serving therein for nearly 22 years, and receiving his discharge, with pension, in Ireland, in August, 1842. In August, 1851, nine years after his discharge he came to Amherstburg, and resided for some years on the reserve, afterwards removing to Malden, and finally returning to Amherstburg in 1872. In 1877, he was elected a member of the Town Council, and in 1878 and 1879 he was elected Deputy Reeve, and was the oldest representative who has ever had a seat in the County Council. While in the Council he was very painstaking in the discharge of his duties in town. His wife died 22 years ago, and three sons -- Thomas, Patrick and Edmund -- and four daughters are dead, the only surviving member of his family being Mrs. Daniel Graveline of this town. In Ireland in 1843, deceased took the Father Matthew temperance pledge and has been very temperate ever since. His funeral took place from the R. C. church, on Sunday afternoon last, and was attended by a large number of his aged fellow-soldiers and by the members of the Town Council, who attended in a body to honor the memory of their old colleague in the council.

Revolutionary New Castle: The Struggle for Independence

About this book

AFRICAN AMERICANS AS SLAVES AND SAILORS

Slavery was a longstanding institution in New Castle and legally existed until the end of the Civil War. In 1664, a cargo of thirty-eight males and thirty-four females is the first record of slaves being imported from Africa into New Castle by the Dutch. It is estimated that slaves already in the Dutch colony made up about one-fifth to one-fourth of the town's population. Slavery continued under English rule and the Penn family's proprietorship of the region that became Delaware. After the early imports, most slaves came to the New Castle area with their masters from Maryland and Virginia, when families like the Reads or Bedfords migrated. A few slaves were sailors, hired out by their masters to work on ships, a situation that was lucrative for both master and slave. By the end of the eighteenth century, a third of the area's population was probably black, although more of them lived in the countryside, where they cultivated the cash crops of tobacco and wheat.

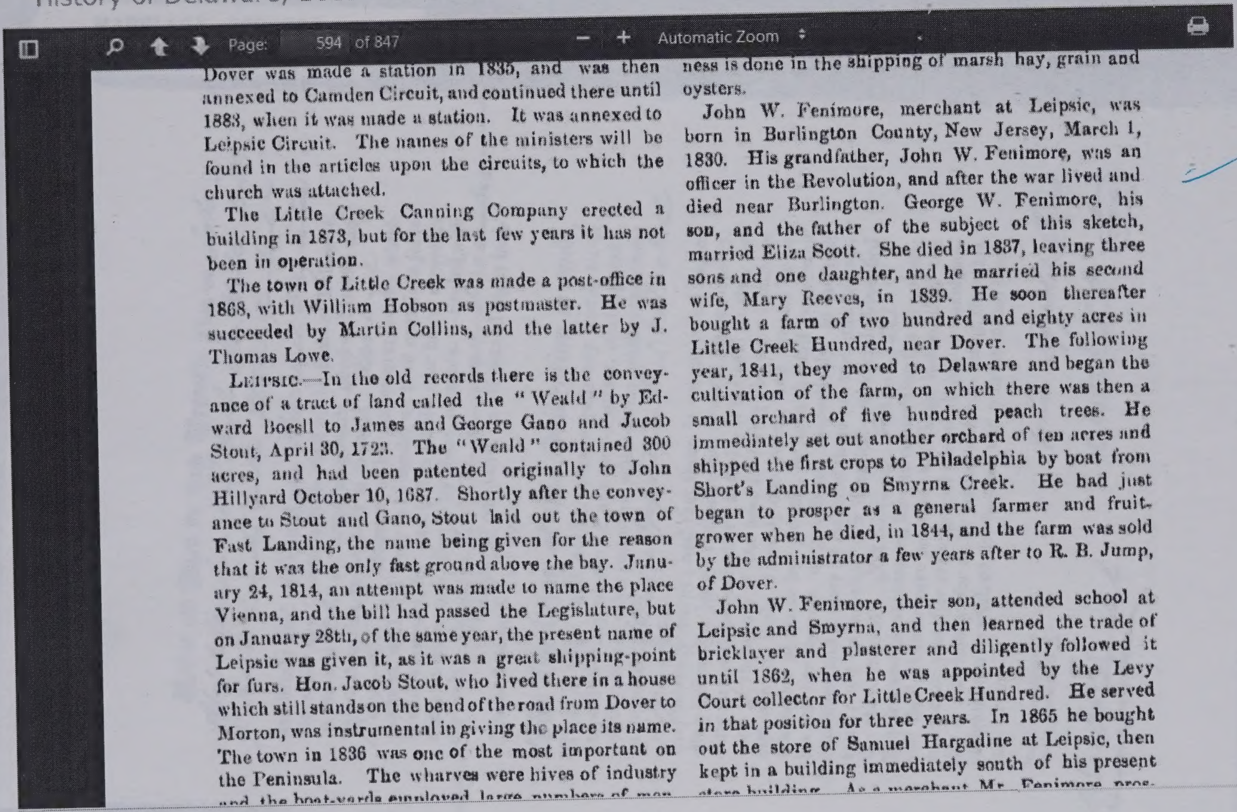
History of Delaware, 1609-1888 V.2



Dover was made a station in 1835, and was then annexed to Camden Circuit, and continued there until 1883, when it was made a station. It was annexed to Leipsic Circuit. The names of the ministers will be found in the articles upon the circuits, to which the church was attached.

The Little Creek Canning Company erected a building in 1873, but for the last few years it has not been in operation.

The town of Little Creek was made a post-office in 1868, with William Hobson as postmaster. He was succeeded by Martin Collins, and the latter by J. Thomas Lowe.

LEIPSIC.—In the old records there is the conveyance of a tract of land called the "Weald" by Edward Boesll to James and George Gano and Jacob Stout, April 30, 1723. The "Weald" contained 300 acres, and had been patented originally to John Hillyard October 10, 1687. Shortly after the conveyance to Stout and Gano, Stout laid out the town of Fast Landing, the name being given for the reason that it was the only fast ground above the bay. January 24, 1814, an attempt was made to name the place Vienna, and the bill had passed the Legislature, but on January 28th, of the same year, the present name of Leipsic was given it, as it was a great shipping-point for furs. Hon. Jacob Stout, who lived there in a house which still stands on the bend of the road from Dover to Morton, was instrumental in giving the place its name. The town in 1836 was one of the most important on the Peninsula. The wharves were hives of industry and the boat-yards employed large numbers of men

John W. Fenimore, merchant at Leipsic, was born in Burlington County, New Jersey, March 1, 1830. His grandfather, John W. Fenimore, was an officer in the Revolution, and after the war lived and died near Burlington. George W. Fenimore, his son, and the father of the subject of this sketch, married Eliza Scott. She died in 1837, leaving three sons and one daughter, and he married his second wife, Mary Reeves, in 1839. He soon thereafter bought a farm of two hundred and eighty acres in Little Creek Hundred, near Dover. The following year, 1841, they moved to Delaware and began the cultivation of the farm, on which there was then a small orchard of five hundred peach trees. He immediately set out another orchard of ten acres and shipped the first crops to Philadelphia by boat from Short's Landing on Smyrna Creek. He had just began to prosper as a general farmer and fruit-grower when he died, in 1844, and the farm was sold by the administrator a few years after to R. B. Jump, of Dover.

John W. Fenimore, their son, attended school at Leipsic and Smyrna, and then learned the trade of bricklayer and plasterer and diligently followed it until 1862, when he was appointed by the Levy Court collector for Little Creek Hundred. He served in that position for three years. In 1865 he bought out the store of Samuel Hargadine at Leipsic, then kept in a building immediately south of his present store building. As a merchant Mr. Fenimore pros-new cannery, recently erected a short distance north of town. Ridgely is now ahead of the other towns of the county in this industry.

A few days ago Mr. George C. Moore, of Queen Anne, fell from a car at the station and dislocated his right arm at the shoulder. It was very painful and Mr. Moore had to be put under chloroform before reduction could be accomplished.

Miss Lizzie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Smith, of Queen Anne, died at an early hour yesterday morning, after a long illness of typhoid fever, aged about twenty years. She was an estimable young lady, and her death is deeply regretted by her numerous friends. The funeral will be held tomorrow.

A storm of considerable energy swept over a large section of the Peninsula on Saturday evening last, doing considerable damage. In Talbot and Dorchester and in some parts of Caroline crops were injured. At Denton there were vivid displays of electricity. The residence of Mr. B. H. Johnson was struck by lightning and the frame of one window was badly shattered.

While little Henry Noble, son of Mr. George F. Noble, and a number of other boys were playing in a barn near Hickman, one day last week, the building was struck by lightning. The little lad was knocked senseless and remained unconscious for a considerable length of time. One of the Rev. W. R. Mowbray preached in the M. E. Church in this place on Sunday.

Another Ticket in Delaware.

The "Regular" Republicans of Delaware, the opponents of Addicks, have nominated the following ticket: For governor—Martin P. Burris, of New Castle county. Lieutenant governor—John Hunn, Kent county. Presidential electors—Charles W. Pusey, of Wilmington; Manlove Hayes, Dover and Daniel J. Layton, Millsboro. Hayes was named as a presidential elector by the Union Republican convention (Addicks faction) two weeks ago. Walter O. Hoffecker, of Kent, for the unexpired congressional term of the late John H. Hoffecker. Congressman for the full term—Former Congressman Jonathan S. Willis. Attorney General—H. H. Ward. State treasurer—Dr. I. Heisler Ball. Insurance commissioner—George E. Smith, Sussex county. Auditor of accounts—Purnell B. Norman, Sussex county. This means that whatever chance the Republicans had of carrying Delaware has entirely disappeared.

The Peach Season Is at Its Height.

The damp weather interfered with the work of gathering and shipping peaches to a considerable extent this week, and much fruit was lost. There are now bushels of it in many orchards rotting on the ground. Not-returned from a week's visit at Rehoboth.

Mr. W. C. Stevens, of Preston, spent a few days with his father, W. W. Stevens.

Mr. Alga Smith is having an addition of two rooms erected to his dwelling.

Ridgely.

Mrs. John S. Beach and little daughter Marie, of Queenstown, who have been visiting friends here, spent a few days at Cape May, N. J., this week, accompanied by her friend Miss Maggie Andrews, of town.

Mrs. Mamie Turner and son, Webster, of Baltimore, are the guests of Mrs. Thomas Carmine.

Mrs. Dill, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Edith, of Wilmington, are visiting friends in town.

Mrs. Henry Sinclair is spending a few weeks with friends in New Haven, Conn.

Miss Linda Smith is visiting relatives in Baltimore.

Bethlehem.

Miss Grace Hubbard, Miss Fannie Bradshaw, Mr. Frank Thomas and family, and Mr. Nat. Legates and family were visitors at Ocean City recently.

Mr. Norman Lednum, Miss Mary Noble, Mr. Harvey Parrott, and Miss Mabel Hooper spent Wednesday evening in Delaware.

John C. Fremont, the first candidate of the Republican party for President. In 1876 he was a delegate to the National Republican Convention at Cincinnati, when Rutherford B. Hayes was nominated for the Presidency, and in 1884 was a delegate to the Convention at Chicago which nominated James G. Blaine for the same office. The important position he has held has given him prominence and influence not only in the town of Smyrna and his native county of Kent, but in the entire State of Delaware.

On the 19th of May, 1853, John H. Hoffecker was married to Miss Annie E. Appleton, daughter of John Appleton, of Odessa, Delaware. By this marriage were born four children, viz.: Walter O., married to Miss Beulah C. Hance, of Philadelphia,—is engaged in business with his father; John A., married to Miss Annie Waters, of Smyrna,—is chief clerk in the superintendent's office of the Delaware Division of the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad at Clayton; James Edwin, married to Miss Annie Scott,—is employed as clerk in the same office; Annie, the youngest of the family, lives at home.

Mr. Hoffecker's first wife died June 20, 1881. Her father is living at the age of eighty-four years.

In March, 1883, Mr. Hoffecker was married to Mrs. Charlotte J. Hoffecker, daughter of Matthias German, of Kent County. Mrs. Hoffecker was a teacher in China from 1875 to 1878, living in the family of her sister, who was the wife of Rev. S. L. Baldwin, D.D., for twenty years a missionary of the Methodist Church in China.

machine-shop on Commerce Street in 1865. The building was a frame structure, forty by seventy feet. In 1867 he associated with himself J. D. Evans, and shortly afterwards the firm began to manufacture baskets in addition to the other branches of industry. Additional buildings were erected, and in the three departments employment was given to one hundred persons. In 1878 Evans withdrew from the business, and full charge was assumed by Joseph E. Worden, son of William Worden. In 1875 the Worden Manufacturing Company was organizod. This company operated the works until 1878, when they were purchased by Tschudy & Catts. On December 18, 1880, the entire manufactory was burned. In 1882 the present building, fifty-six by seventy feet, one story brick, and one story frame, was erected, and has since been operated as a basket-factory by Tschudy & Catts, with J. B. Evans as superintendent. Employment is given to seventy-five persons for four months each year. With improved machinery the capacity has increased from seventeen thousand, produced the first season, by Worden & Evans, to thirty-five thousand per week now manufactured. The principal markets are the Peninsula and New Jersey.

In 1847 James Taylor opened a general wheelwright-shop and wagon manufactory on Commerce Street. In 1855 George W. Taylor, a son, was admitted into partnership, and the place of business moved to Main Street. In the following year the foundry of James L. Bucke was purchased, and operated until 1861. In 1864 G. W. & S. Taylor formed a partner-

Delaware Families 1787-1800

By The Delaware Genealogical Society

$26.95

DELAWARE FAMILIES 1787-1800 By The Delaware Genealogical Society Delaware Families 1787-1800 is a commemoration of families who lived in Delaware during its earliest statehood, from the date it became the first state to ratify the new United States constitution until a new century began in 1800. These are some of the first families of the first state in the United States. This work evolved from submissions made over a period of years, principally from Delaware Genealogical Society members to whom the individual sketches are attributed. Its basic element is a three-generation family group, who lived in Delaware during the focus period "1787-1800," with vital data for each—dates and locations of births, marriages and deaths, and the sources documenting them. Delaware was a center from which many of these families followed migration routes in all directions, not only westward beyond the Mississippi, but also north and south along the Atlantic coast. Over 5,800 citations and the extensive bibliography will provide a valuable resource for this time period since the Delaware census has been lost. Also included is an index of 1,900 surnames, more than 8,000 names and over 100 enslaved or manumitted persons listed in association with these families.
